FEDERAL COAL

SUBVENTION CHANGE AIDS PASS OWNERS

OTTAWA, April 19.—The maximum subvention payable on bituminous coal shipments by operators to Manitoba has been reduced from $1.50 to $1.20 per ton, Hon. W. A. Gordon, minister of mines, announced. The reduction is to place all operators who ship to Manitoba on an equality without adding to the markets to foreign competition.

Action follows consideration by the minister of representations made by the bituminous coal operators of the Crow's Nest Pass district. It is stated these representations show that the subvention order of 1931 placed the Southern Alberta field at a disadvantage as compared with the northern field in the Manitoba market.

Acceptances that have been granted prior to April 15, 1932, it is stated, will continue to be in force under the old maximum until the tonnages specified have been shipped.

Crow's Nest Pass mines should profit to some extent by the new order when the existing strike difficulties are removed and working conditions in the industry become normal. It gives the Pass operators an even break with Northern Alberta mines in Winnipeg market. Heretofore the Pass mines have been at a disadvantage of roughly 10 cents a ton as compared with the northern mines. Now no field will have an advantage. Incidentally, an operator pointed out, it will mean a substantial saving to the federal government. The government paid northern mines as high as $1.41 a ton, now the maximum is $1.20.

B.C. MINING INDUSTRY

VICTORIA, April 17.—George Henry Aylard, 74 years of age, probably one of the most outstanding figures in the B.C. mining industry, died at St. Joseph's hospital tonight after a short illness. Mr. Aylard was taken to the hospital last Monday and the following day underwent an operation, from which he never rallied.

He was well known throughout the Kootenay country, being manager of the Enterprise Mining Syndicate of Slocan in 1895. The same year he became manager of the Slocan Mining Syndicate, a position he held until the time of his death.

BLAIRMORE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Books being placed on the shelves this week are:

"The Treatment of Armenians in the Ottoman Empire," by Viscount Bryce; "Mary Slessor of Calabar," by W. P. Livingstone; "History of Music," by F. L. Ritter; "The Bible Handbook," by Joseph Angus; "The Rise of the Dutch Republic," by John Lothrop Motley; "The Life and Work of St. Paul," by Frederic W. Farrar, D.D., F.R.S.; "The Newsboy Partners," by Webster; "Septemter," by Frank Swinnerton; "The Riddle of The Purple Emperor," by Mary E. and Thomas W. Hanshew.

The library hours are Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturdays from 7 to 10 p.m. The fees are $1.00 per year for residents and $2.00 per year for non-residents.

Frederick James Hawkes, aged 60 years, well known Calgary plumber, died at Calgary on Friday night last. Deceased was well known in lodge circles, having been past grand patriarch of the Encampment, past captain of the Canton, and past D.D.G.M. of the Alberta Grand Lodge, of the I.O.O.F. He is survived by his wife and father, of Calgary; two sisters, Mrs. Douglas, Toronto, and Mrs. Larrett, Innisfail. The remains were laid to rest on Tuesday afternoon.

'SUNDOWN TRAIL'

RAPID FIRE ACTION STORY OF THE WEST

Romance of the western cattle brought to the talking screen in "Sundown Trail," the RKO Pathe feature starring Tom Keene which opens at Cole's theatre, Bellevue, Monday night.

"Sundown Trail" is a rapid fire action story of the open range, in which Keene takes the part of a cowboy who knows his riding, roping, shooting, and live-cracking technique. The star is supported by an unusually strong cast which includes Marion Shilling, Nick Stuart, Hooper Atchley, Stanley Dlystone, Louise Beavers and others.

The picture was filmed in the heart of the picturesque Mojave desert and on a big cattle ranch bordering the desert. Robert F. Hill, veteran screen writer and director who has spent many years in the West associating with cowboys, is the author and director of the screen play.

INTEREST CONVENTION

DELEGATES TO TRAVEL BY WAY OF ALBERTA

EDMONTON, April 19.—Summer visitors for Alberta may result from an effort now being made by Colin Groff, provincial publicity commissioner, to interest prospective delegates to the big convention in American coast cities to go, or come via the Sunny Alberta route, where nature will be having its annual beauty show and all that sort of thing.

The American Legion convention and the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Oddfellows are to be held during the summer in Portland, and the International Rotary convention is scheduled for Seattle in June.

The onset of a big mining rush into the Great Bear Lake and other mineral areas of the Northwest Territories has prompted the minister of the interior at Ottawa to issue a warning to prospectors against entering the country without ample backing and supplies. He also urges all parties going into the field to call at the department of interior offices at Edmonton or Fort Smith, in order to receive copies of the latest mining regulations and other information necessary for the guidance of those going into remote districts.

WALLACE EBBY AND CLARK

GABE HOLD SPEED RECORDED

Wallace Ebbey and Clark Gable now hold records as having traveled faster than any other actors alive.

In "Hell Divers," drama of naval aviation, soon coming to Cole's theatre, Bellevue, they participated in sensational diving maneuvers. In these dives, the airplanes reached a speed of 350 miles an hour. And both actors got an enormous "kick" out of it. A cast of unusual importance supports the co-stars of "Hell Divers," including Conrad Nagel, Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rameau, Marie Prevost and Cliff Edwards.

The municipality of Laird, which won first prize in the Canadian National Railways Community Progress Competition in the Saskatchewan section in 1931, has purchased with the cash prize (which had to be disbursed for community betterment or agricultural improvement), two Black Percheron stallions to be available to farmers for horse improvement at a nominal fee.

SHE WORRIED ABOUT HER WEIGHT

"I started taking Kruschen Salts a month ago. I have lost 3 pounds in weight, and I feel as if I have lost 80 lbs. I was full of vigor, whereas before I was worried about my condition, as I was bald and worried over little things. But I am thankful to say that, were my troubles doubled, they would not worry me today—thanks to Kruschen." Miss V. P. Here's the recipe that banishes fat—take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning, for "It's the daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning. Kruschen "daily means" that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

Modify your diet, and take gentle exercise. The stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are tuned up, and the pure, fresh blood containing these six salts is carried to every part of the body, and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic liveliness and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and slimming figure.

Ask For Protection Of Livestock Industry

Dominion Minister Of Agriculture Requested To Call Conference

A meeting of the Saskatchewan Livestock Board held in Regina passed a resolution requesting the Dominion Minister of Agriculture to call a conference of all livestock interests in Canada before the Imperial Conference in Ottawa in July to draft a policy for the protection of the livestock industry to be presented at the conference.

The meeting also endorsed a similar request from the Western Canada Livestock Union. It was initiated at the meeting that in the case of the Dominion declining these requests the Livestock Union might call an independent meeting and, in case this was done, the Livestock Board requested that the six presidents of the Saskatchewan Associations, horse, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and ranchers, be invited to attend.

Coal Production

Heavy Increases Shown For Saskatchewan and Alberta Mines

Canadian coal producers reported an output of 1,188,349 tons of coal during February; an increase of 23.4 per cent. over the February, 1931, production according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Alberta's production reached a total of 537,025 tons as against 336,502 tons in February, 1931. Nova Scotia's output was 249,350, a decline of 13.4 per cent. from the total for the corresponding month of last year. Compared with February a year ago, the British Columbia production of 174,027 tons showed an increase of 18.8 per cent. Saskatchewan's output of 108,485 tons recorded a 99.1 per cent. advance; on the other hand, the New Brunswick production of 19,032 tons was 10.3 per cent. lower.

Receipts of anthracite coal consisted of 119,485 tons from the United States, 9,916 tons from Great Britain, and 650 tons from Belgium. Imports of bituminous coal totalled 378,848 tons, of which tonnage the United States supplied 99.3 per cent. and Great Britain the remainder.

Exports of coal from Canada were recorded at 26,948 tons or 24.5 per cent. above the February, 1931, total. Approximately 72 per cent. of the month's exports were cleared through customs' ports in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Tax On Insurance

Imposition Of One Per Cent. Of Premiums Other Than Life, Marine and Farm Mutuals

Imposition of a tax of one per cent. of net premiums of insurance companies authorized to transact business in any province of Canada, other than life, marine and farm mutual was announced in the budget speech of R. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, in the House of Commons.

"The tax upon insurance premiums passed at the last session was not put into effect by proclamation as provided by the statute, owing to difficulties over the jurisdiction of the Dominion and provinces in the matter of insurance," Mr. Rhodes remarked.

"It is now proposed, under the Special War Revenue Act, to impose a tax of 1 per cent. of net premiums of insurance companies authorized to transact business in Canada or in any province of Canada, other than life, marine and farm mutual. This tax was in force from 1915 to 1929. British and foreign companies, not so authorized, but maintaining deposits with the Dominion, will also be assessed 1 per cent. of net premiums received in Canada. Canadian policyholders who insure their property in Canada with companies other than those mentioned above, will be charged a tax of 15 per cent. of the gross premiums payable on such insurance."

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

ICE BOX LEMON PIE

(Makes 1 pie)

Mix thoroughly 1 1/2 cups sweetened condensed (not evaporated) milk, 1/4 cup lemon juice, Grated rind 1 lemon, 2 egg yolks, beaten. Four into pie shell, 8-inch size. Cover with meringue made of 2 egg whites beaten stiff with 2 tablespoons sugar.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) until meringue is brown (6 to 12 minutes). Chill before serving.

PORTUGUESE TOMATOES

2 cups cooked meat, 6 large tomatoes, 2 cups gravy, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, Salt and pepper.

Peel the tomatoes and simmer them gently in the gravy, adding the seasoning to them. When the tomatoes are tender but have not lost their shape, skin them out and put where they will keep hot. Heat the meat in the gravy and make rounds of toast. Serve the meat on the buttered toast with a tomato on top of each.

New Kind Of Auction

Fishing Rights In Waters Of New Brunswick Leased

Of international interest to anglers, an auction, the only one of its kind in the world, was held in the assembly chamber of the New Brunswick parliament building, when 35 stretches of trout and salmon waters were leased to the highest bidders for 10-year periods. No bids were made for the remaining 33 leases. As a result of the sale of fishing privileges the province will receive a yearly revenue of $37,318.50.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 24

ABRAHAM'S GENEROSITY TO LOT

Golden Text: "In honor preferring one another."—Romans 12:10. Lesson: Genesis 13. Devotional Reading: Psalm 133.

Explanations and Comments

The Problem, verses 5-7.—The land of Canaan was not fertile enough to support such large flocks and herds as both Abraham and Lot had, especially after there had been a severe famine, Genesis 12:10. Their herdsmen were continually quarreling over the pastures. Not only was there not enough pasture for them, but they did not have the whole land to themselves—the Canaanites and the Perizzites were there too. Some scholars think that the Perizzites were the original inhabitants who had been conquered by the Canaanites.

The Peace Measure, verses 8-9.—Abraham would have no strife between himself and Lot, nor between their herdsmen. The unoccupied country was before them, he told Lot. "He was more intent on peace than on plenty," he preferred fraternal fellowship to selfish increase, and so he bade Lot choose the side he wanted and he himself would take the other.

The Choice, verses 10-13.—They had a wide prospect from a hill above Bethel. On the one side of them were the rather barren hills of Judea, from two thousand to four thousand feet high. On the other side was a rich plain ten or twelve miles broad through which the Jordan flowed. Lot was a man of the world, sharp as a needle, having an eye to the main chance. He boasted to himself that he always "look in the whole of it." But he had very imperfect sight. He saw "all the well-watered plain of Jordan," but he overlooked the city of Sodom, and its exceedingly wicked and sinful people. And the thing he overlooked was the biggest thing in the outlook: it was to prove his undoing.—J. H. Jowett.

The Compensation, verses 14-18.—"What lay behind Abraham's magnanimity? More than mere kindness to a younger man. More, too, than a mild superior to material values. He had been called of God for a great purpose, and that certainly was something greater than the accumulation of wealth. There was an inward fidelity to higher ends which made him treat the question of a better or worse grazing-ground as mere detail of life. He was content to leave his destiny and his whole question of 'less or more' in other hands."

"This is what was recognized by the gracious revelation made to him without gratitude. Former promises had become precise and more detailed. 'All the land which thou shalt tell' will I give it and to thy seed for ever. He is bidden to go through the land in the length of it and the breadth of it in the proud consciousness of possession. If he has sacrificed a part of it to his kinsman, there will be no impoverishment. The renewed and extended promise included more than territory. There was a specific assurance concerning the multitudes of his descendants. They would be abundant so that the land would be fully possessed. 'They shall be as the dust of the earth'—beyond counting—that is the assurance. God is not to be outdone in generosity by his servant. If Abraham gives generously, God gives tenfold more.

Rum Running Case
Nova Scotian Vessel Is Forfeited To United States Government
The Nova Scotian vessel, "Josephine K," which was seized off Ambrose Light in January, 1931, has been forfeited to the United States Government with the consent of her owners. It was announced in New York.

United States Attorney George Z. Medelle disclosed the action which, he said, was agreed to by counsel for the Liverpool Shipping Company, owners of the boat. The wines and liquors found aboard will be destroyed.

Seizure of the boat caused international complications because her skipper, William P. Chuet, was killed in the coastguard chase. An inquiry, however, resulted in the ruling that the coastguard acted within regulations.

Community Progress Competitions

Gratifying Results Attend Movement Sponsored By Canadian National Railways

The closing entry date for the Canadian National Railways Community Progress Competitions for 1932 has been set for April 30, by Dr. W. J. Black, Montreal, director of the Department of Colonization and Agriculture for the railway.

In commenting on the results of the two years competitions, which were most gratifying, Dr. Black said an advancement quite substantial in character has been registered in the extent of the public interest being taken by many communities in their local schools, and the education, both primary and higher, of their young people. In agriculture a drive has been instituted for livestock improvement, unprofitable breeding stock has been disposed of, finer soil cultivation has been adopted, good seed has been recognized as more important, the physical conditions of farms, dwellings and buildings generally have been improved, and rural highways have been built or reconditioned.

In Public Health also interest has been stimulated. The prevention and control of infectious diseases has been given more attention, and in some cases municipal doctors have been appointed. Boys' and girls' clubs have been organized where few, if any, previously existed. Agricultural societies, farmers' and women's associations, institutes or clubs have been brought into being or have been advanced. Closer co-operation in community relations has been encouraged, and influences for the general betterment have been promoted, including due consideration for observance of law and order.

In the farm home the handicrafts have been given a premium and the coming generation of workers has been encouraged to preserve and perpetuate the best that has been brought to this country from other lands.

The 1931 prize money totalling $1,750 for each of the three Western Provinces is being spent on worthwhile projects such as purchase or renting of pure bred stallions and bulls; purchasing seed-cleaning plant; organizing boys' and girls' clubs covering seed growing, poultry, garden, calf, and swine; beautifying school grounds and purchase of playground equipment and school libraries; establishment of fairgrounds, sewing clubs, and assistance to community halls and other community efforts.

Altogether the results so far have been a fine achievement, demonstrating the possibilities of a united objective toward the great goal of Canadian Citizenship.

Radio Owners Given Time To Pay License Fee

A lenient attitude is to be taken by the Department of Marine in the collection of the $2 license fee for radio receiving sets. For a moment they faced each other, his eyes, stormy as her own, dark with anger. His hands clenched themselves.

"If I could," he said hoarsely, "I would 'smoke' it my business."

He wheeled round and left the room without another word. Jean stood staring dazedly at the blank panels of the door which had closed behind him. She wanted to laugh . . . or to cry. To laugh, because with every sudden word he revealed the thing he was so ridiculously intent on keeping from her. To cry, because he had taken her pretended indifference at its face value, and so another film of misunderstanding had risen to veil the veil between them—the veil which he would not, and she, being a woman, could not, draw aside.

"I've just thrown out all my dust cloths"

—because I found how to do the work better, easier and quicker.

"I use Appliflow Wonder Paper now. You buy it in a neat package that tucks away handily in a table drawer. Twenty-five large sheets for a quarter. When you use it, you simply crumple a sheet into a soft wad and go over whatever needs attention."

"I've never seen anything like Wonder Paper. It really dries, cleans and polishes at the same time. It takes up dirt like magic, and so easily. And you can use both sides."

"What I used to loathe about dusting was the bother of keeping the dusts clean. I always used odds and ends of old shirts and the like—and it seemed to me I was eternally washing them. It worried me just to throw them into a bag or cupboard. They seemed so unsanitary."

"The beauty of Wonder Paper is that you throw it away when you're through with it."

"I can promise that you'll like Wonder Paper. It gives you time for things very much more attractive than dusting."

which the highways of life are littered.

The Reckless Parent, the Other Woman—be she never so glibful—or the Other Man, as the case may be, are none of them as potent a menace to the ultimate happy issue of events as the mountain of small misunderstandings which a man and a maid in love are capable of piling up for themselves.

The man is prone to see only that which the woman intends he shall—and so self-respecting feminine thing is going to unveil the mysteries of her heart until she is very definitely assured that that is precisely what the man in the case is aching for her to do.

So she dissembles with all the skill which Nature and a few odd thousand years for so of tradition have taught her and pretends that the Only Man in the World means rather less to her than her second-best shoe buckles. With the result that he probably goes silently and slyly away, convinced that he hasn't an outside chance, while all the time she is simply quivering to pour out at his feet the whole treasure of her love.

In this respect Blaise and Jean blundered as egregiously as any other love-betrothed pair.

Following upon their quarrel over the matter of Jean's attitude towards Geoffrey Burke, Tormaria retreated once again into those fastnesses of aloof reserve which seemed to deny the whole memory of that "magic moment" at Montevideo. And Jean, because she was unhappy, flitted out rationally with the origin of the quarrel, finding a certain reckless enjoyment in the flavour of excitement lent to the proceedings by the fact that Burke, oh, how lovely current.

Playing with an "unexploded bomb" at least sufficed to take her thoughts off other matters, and enabled her momentarily to forget everything for which forgetting seemed the only possible and sensible prescription.

But you can't forget things by yourself. Solitude is memory's closest friend. So Jean, heedless of consequences, encouraged Burke to help her.

Lady Anne sometimes sighed a little, as she watched the two go off together for a long morning on the river, or down to the tennis-court, accompanied, on occasion, by Claire Lattimer and Nick to make up the set. But she held her peace. She was no believer in direct outside interference as a means towards the unravelment of a love tangle, and all that it was possible to do, indirectly, she had attempted when she revealed to Jean the history of Blaise's marriage.

She did, however, make a proposal which would have the effect of breaking through the present trend of affairs and of throwing Blaise and Jean more or less continuously into each other's company. She was worldly wise enough to give due value to the power of propinquity, and her innocently proffered suggestion that she and her two sons and Jean should all run up to London for a week, before the season closed, was based on the knowledge of how much can be accomplished by the skilful handling of a "partie carree."

The suggestion was variously received. By Blaise, indifferently; by Jean, with her natural desire to know more of the great city she had glimpsed on a route suggested by the knowledge that a constant round of sight-seeing and entertainment would be a further aid towards the process of forgetting; by Nick, the sun of whose existence rose and set at Charnwood, with open rebellion.

"Why go to be barked in London, madonna, when we might remain here in the comparative cloith of the country?" he murmured plaintively to his mother.

They were alone at the moment, and Lady Anne regarded him with twinkling eyes.

"Frankly, Nick, because I want Jean for my daughter-in-law. No other reason in the world. Personally, as you know, I simply detest town during the season."

He laughed and kissed her. "What a Machiavelli in petticoats! I'd never have believed it of you, madonna. Help me, I wouldn't!"

"Well, you may. And you've got to back me up, Nick. No pillandering with Jean mind! You'll leave her severely alone and content yourself with the company of your aged parent."

"Aged foolishness!" he jeered. "If it weren't for that white hair of yours, I'd take you round as my youngest sister. And I don't believe"—severely—"that it is white, really. I believe your maid powders it for you every morning, just because you were born in a sin and know that it's becoming."

So it was settled that the first week of July should witness a general exodus from Staple, and meanwhile the June days slipped away, and Tormaria sedulously occupied herself in adding fresh stones to the wall which he thought fit to interpose between himself and the woman he loved. While Jean grew restless and afraid, and hung herself into every kind of amusement that offered, wearing a little fine under the combined mental and physical strain.

Claire, perceiving the nervous tension at which the girl was living, was wistfully troubled on her friend's behalf, and watched her anxious bewilderment to Nick.

"I think Blaise must be crazy," she declared one day. "I'm perfectly convinced that he's in love with Jean, and yet he appears prepared to stand by while, Geoffrey, Burke completely monopolises her."

Nick nodded.

"Yes. I own I can't understand the fellow. He'll wake up one day to find that she's Burke's wife."

"Oh, I hope not!" cried Claire hastily.

They were pacing up and down one of the gravelled alleys that intersected the famous rhododendron shrubbery at Charnwood, and, as she spoke, Claire cast a half-frightened glance in the direction of the house. She knew that Sir Adrian was closeted with his lawyer, and that he was, therefore, not in the least likely to emerge from the obscurity of his study for some time to come. But as long as he was anywhere on the place, she was totally unable to rid herself of the hateful consciousness of his presence.

He reminded her of some horrible and loathsome species of spider, at times remote and motionless in the centre of his web—that web in which, body and soul, she had been inextricably caught—but always liable to wake into sudden activity, and then poison mercilessly.

"Oh, I hope not!" she repeated shivering a little. "If she only knew what marriage to the wrong man means! . . . And I'm certain Geoffrey is the wrong man. Why on earth does Blaise behave like this?"—Impatiently. "Anyone might think—Jean herself might think—he didn't care! And I'm positive he does."

"If he does, he's a fool. Good Lord!"—moodily kicking a pebble out of his path—"Imagine any sane man, with a clear road before him, 'n' taking it!"

"He swung round towards her suddenly. 'Claire, if there were only a clear road—for us! If only I could take you away from all this!'—his glance embracing the grey old house, so beautiful and yet so much a prison, which just showed above the tops of the tall-growing rhododendrons. 'Oh, hush! Hush!'"

Claire glanced round her attentively, as though the very leaves and blossoms had ears to hear and tongue to repeat.

"One never knows," she whispered the words barely above her breath—"where he is. He might easily be hidden in one of the alleys that run parallel with this."

Profitable Reading

Imagination Enters Largely—Into What We Learn From Books

As there are persons who seem to walk through life with their eyes open, seeing nothing, so there are others who read through books, and perhaps even cram themselves with facts, without carrying away any living pictures of significant story which might arouse the fancy in an hour of leisure, or give them with endurance in a moment of difficulty. Ask yourself, therefore, always when you have read a chapter of any notable book, not what you saw printed on a grey page, but what you see pictured in the glowing gallery of your imagination. . . . Count yourself not to know a fact when you know that it took place, but then only when you see it as it did take place.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

THE PEACE OF NIGHT

There is a wistful beauty in the night That frees the spirit from the hurts of day.

A tender loveliness in starry light—

From sorrow's shores dark bears us far away,

Our fragile boats drift on that dark sea

Whereof the stardust is the toasing spray.

Night brings a whisper of eternity into the confines of our little lives.

And peace comes down to dwell with you and me.

No more at least the futile passion strives.

No more love rends us with departing flight.

No longer any hate or greed survives.

Earth's ties slip off when mounting stars are bright.

And peace is ours throughout the quiet night.

Condemns the Tourniquet

Lancet, British Medical Journal, Calls It "Disreputable Relic"

The tourniquet, bound tightly around the arm or leg to stop bleeding, is no longer considered good practice in first-aid, it appears from an editorial note in "The Lancet," British medical journal. The danger of prolonged pressure with this instrument was emphasized and the tourniquet itself was referred to as "a disreputable relic of the past whose only habitat should be the museum."

For seven years a Belgian physician, Dr. M. Stassen, has dispensed with the tourniquet in the first-aid equipments for which he has been responsible. "The Lancet" points out. Dr. Stassen thinks the tourniquet is a frequent cause of shock and gas gangrene. By completely stopping the blood circulation in the injured limb, it promotes infection in the crushed and torn tissues. Its removal is followed by absorption of poisons capable of killing a patient already weakened by cold, shock and loss of blood.

Income Tax Collecting

$744,000,000 Collected By Federal Government In 14 Years

In the 14 years the income tax has been in effect approximately $744,000,000 has been collected by the Federal Government.

The collection of this sum has cost less than $26,000,000.

These were points of interest in a recent broadcast by C. B. Walters, commissioner of Income tax, Ottawa, on the Dominion Income Tax.

The average yearly income tax for the first 13 years was more than $52,000,000, while the collection for the last fiscal year will total more than $81,000,000.

Last year about 20 per cent. of the total revenue of Canada was raised by the income tax, Mr. Walters said.

Little Helps For This Week

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."—2 Timothy 1.7.

Lord and Father, great and holy! Fearing naught, though weak and lowly.

For Thy love has made us free. By the blue sky bending o'er us— By the green earth's flowery zone, Teach us, Lord, the angel chorus, Thou art love and love alone.

—Frederic W. Farrar.

"Fear may create the enforced obedience of the slave, love only can win the devotion of the child, and that is why God hath not sent to us—who know the truth and whom the truth has made free—the spirit of fear and bondage, but of love, and of power, and of a sound mind. And this love is the sole basis of holiness.—Ibid.

Exempt From Sales Tax

Pastries Not Made From Bread Dough On Free List

THE HERALD OF YOUR TOWN

As a merchant prides himself on the quality of the merchandise he sells, or a manufacturer on the quality of the goods he turns out, so a newspaper editor takes satisfaction in the appearance of his paper, the manner in which it is supported and the use made of it by other editors from which to clip news articles and editorial comment; and in this respect we cannot refrain from informing our readers of a circumstance that has lately come to light. The Dominion Press Clipping Bureau is a Toronto firm that receives newspapers from all over Canada, and periodically returns to the respective editors comments clipped from other newspapers that have used articles from fellow newspapers and given credit for the same. In this respect there are some very outstanding weeklies as well as dailies. There is no other agency that carries the name of any town so far and so favorably as does a reputable newspaper, and it is gratifying to every editor to see his columns frequently quoted.

THE EDITOR'S WASTE BASKET

Every editor has a large receptacle sitting close to his desk, which he uses for dumping waste materials which come to him through the mails and over the counter. His mail box is generally found to contain large quantities of type-written articles, extracts from speeches, yards of propaganda on every known subject.

In glancing through the basket this morning we found a number of pages devoted to the "National Society for the Prevention of Blindness." It does not take much imagination to detect the underlying reasons for this free article. "Drink More Milk" is another epistle from the National Dairyman's association; "Eat More Fish" was a three-page effusion contributed by the Pacific Coast Fisheries; "Some Diseases of the Teeth," from the National Dental association, explained why you should go to your dentist regularly; "Vaccination," told its own story—that is, it told a story, but if the writer were to tell one it would not sound like the one found in the waste basket; the "Lost Person Letter," appeared legitimate, so we used it. The Olympic committee also remembered us this week with three or four pages of closely type-written matter "to be released immediately." We did. We dropped it into the basket. About next week will come a large quantity of stuff from the head office of the medical fraternity in Toronto, the greatest seekers of free publicity of them all.

It must be remembered that none of these articles were accompanied by cash.

Back in our younger days we fell for a lot of that sort of thing, but "those days are gone forever."

Woman Driver (to man in ditch): "Sorry, I'm afraid it was my fault."
The Ditched: "Not at all, Madam, entirely mine. I could see you coming two miles away and might easily have turned up a side road."

The Okotoks Elks are planning their fifth lodge anniversary to be held in May. Invitations are being sent to the surrounding lodges to pay a fraternal visit to the local lodge. The band of Calgary lodge, No. 4 will no doubt be on hand to aid with the celebration. This is expected to be one of the biggest nights in Elkdom that has been seen for some time in the southern part of the province.

THE DISCRIMINATION OF CLASS GOVERNMENT

Class Government is a most frequently used term; in fact, it has been used against many governments, but of late years more so, as regards Farmers' Governments, owing to the vast majority of the members of the legislature being farmers by occupation. A new legislation has passed of direct benefit to the farmers, without, in many cases, much regard for their classes of citizens, who live and save their being in other walks of life. But the following letter from a well known United Farmers of Alberta member of the Alberta legislature, to an old friend, who had helped him on more than one occasion before he reached the Hall of Fame at Edmonton, is indeed patting the "lass idea into practice, with a crudeness and an emphasis which are both unmistakable. The letter read:

Dear Friend:
I am in receipt of your letter with regard to your application for position with the Debt Adjustment Bureau. And while I would like very much to do you a good turn, if it were possible, I feel it my duty to quite frankly say that the type of mind that we want in connection with the Debt Adjustment Bureau is one that has the viewpoint of the farmer and not the viewpoint of the man who has been trained in the occupation of collecting for a machine company.

While I know that you went through the experience of homesteading, I feel that your more recent occupation would not qualify you for the position which you are seeking.

Your very truly,

Certainly the "provincial" member, who wrote such an epistle is no politician, as in the first place, he would not give his hand away in such a manner, and in the second place, he would work on the principle of "Let's remain friendly." But, apart from being a politician, altogether, he is not a student of his own Alberta Farmers' Government's method of procedure in the matter of appointments.

LONG LIVE THE DEPRESSION

Long live the depression! That's what I say. I don't like work and have always tried to avoid it. In the so-called good old days before the depression I had a hard time getting by, and often had to do some chores for a meal. Now, thanks to the relief camps, I am a respectable gentleman of leisure. I eat regularly three times a day. The government has outfitted me with clothes and shoes and supplies me with free smokes. Some kind folk have sent magazines and playing cards, but we could do with some R.D.ing alcohol, as we are getting weak in the back, and so far the government has not issued any. However, there is always someone trying to take the joy out of life. I hear rumors that we are to go to work to earn our board. I hope it is not true, as this suits me fine.—"Hope Princeton Road," in Vancouver Province.

MAPLE SYRUP TIME

Now the maple trees are yielding their annual harvest it is interesting to note that last year the total production of maple sugar in Canada was 5,481,100 pounds, valued at $920,000, and 1,314,700 gallons of syrup with a value of $2,606,900. The 1931 production was considerably below the average. There is a ready market for Canadian maple products for their high quality is widely known. The principal supply of these products comes from the province of Quebec. The provinces of Ontario, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia also contribute fairly large supplies. It is estimated that about 8,000,000 maple trees in Eastern Canada are tapped for their succulent sap, and in the province of Quebec alone no less than about 50,000 farmers have groves of maple trees suitable for tapping.

WOULD YOU LIVE TO BE 107?

All are familiar with the expensiveness of long life who credit their full years to smoking, or not smoking to a drink a day or an apple a day or an onion a day; or to being blessedly single, or blessedly married. The newest record, and promising a full hundred years' reward, comes from an authority from whom it seems we should have heard previously—Lord B. d. n-Powell, head of the world Scout movement.

The promise is made in a characteristically breezy letter to the editor of "Camping," incident to denial of a rumor that the hero of Mafeking had discontinued sleeping out of doors.

Writes B.P.—"Dear Mr. Editor—I am sorry, but I'm going to have you up for libel, slander and malicious persiflage, seeing that in the February issue of Camping you make two definite statements about me which are terminological inaccuracies of the first order.

"I haven't had a severe cold—I never catch cold. I did get a touch of the flu round about the middle region for a few days, but it wasn't what you would call a cold. People who sleep out of doors don't catch colds.

"As to my advancing years making it unwise for me to sleep out of doors, they would make me look damned silly if they succeeded in driving me indoors to sleep. My goodness! Whatever put that idea into your—why, man, I—me—sleep is a nasty, stuffy house! Not I.

"What has over 70 got to do with it? I've learned wisdom in my 75 years, and that tells me that if everyone slept out—and, especially on these jolly frosty nights—we should all live to 100 or more; but as this would overcrowd the club it is perhaps just as well that some should sleep in and die early—say at 50 or so. But for me to sleep in! Not I know it! Yours, BADEN-POWELL."

FOREST WEALTH

Canada's timber supply is estimated to be 424,637,000,000 feet B.M. of raw material and 1,314,923,900 cords of smaller material, such as pulpwood, fuelwood, posts, etc. Fifty-five species of wood occur; 32 hardwoods and 23 softwoods. Forest wealth, including accessible raw materials, and pulpwood and capital invested in forestry operations, is estimated to be $1,806,000,000. Production from the forests is valued at $500,000,000. Exports of wood, wood products and paper in 1929-31 amounted to $230,514,474.

AS FOREIGNER SEES HOCKEY

Hockey, as an outstanding game, is a combination of football, golf, soccer, prize-fighting and tug-of-war.

It is a grime wave on ice. If one man dashes into another on a slippery street, knocks him down and bores him between the eyes with a crooked stick, it is unpremeditated assault. This, done in a rink is what is called first-class hockey.

Sporting enthusiasts, who like their thrills served fresh every second, and who consider any sport dull when any of the contestants are in an upright position have found what they ordered. Here, at last, is a game played while every contestant is in the act of falling through space.

It makes baseball seem like a casual exercise prescribed by the doctor for old gentlemen with stiff joints. Beside it football looks like something thrown into the nursery to keep the children out of mischief.

It is played between two teams of six men each, none of whom care a single thing about his physical future.

A small black rubber heel is what the battle is over, the aim of each team being to deliver it into a cage, guarded by a youth whose people evidently never gave him any good advice.

When it is time for a nocky game to commence, the referee skates to the centre of the ice and rings a bell. This is a signal to all physicians, nurses and internes to get ready for business. He then drops the rubber heel and flees for his life. The heel is then battled for by the opposing teams on the basis of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and a broken nose for a try at the goal cage. During the carnage, the busiest individual in the place is the goal tender, who has to stop more missiles than the City of Rheims stopped German shells.

After the end of the final period, surgeons examine the goal tenders, the game being awarded to the side whose goal tender has the best chance of recovery.—Ex.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

ALBERTA HOUSE PROGRESS

Edmonton, April 20.—With the battle of the second session of the seventh Alberta legislature ended and the smoke cleared away, it is possible to sit back and survey the result and count the casualties.

And what a battle it has been! When the government forces gathered on February 4, they did so with the expectancy that there was going to be another political walk over in a very brief session. But the echoes of the royal salute had scarcely died away before it became evident that they had another thick coming.

The Liberal forces had come grimed at the lips and armed to the teeth, so to speak. They were not slow in letting the whole house know that they were out to wage war from start to finish. And they have lived up to their promise. They have been the one real opposition the government has had to face. They have let nothing slip by without challenge. There has been no halting of their criticism, and the 'cease fire' order was never given by their leader, George H. Webster, once during the whole session.

Tactics applied by the treasury benches to spike the Liberal guns proved unavailing, and the fight continued to the bitter end.

Sometimes the grits were reinforced by the Conservatives, sometimes by the Independents, and now and again the laborites joined hands with them, but always it was the Liberals that initiated the main attack.

From the start it appeared that the government would have to be on the defensive, and they suffered severely as a result. They were much in the position of an army that turns to make a last stand. The casualties were consequently heavy.

The U.F.A. forces were considerably hampered by the fact that outside of Premier Brownlee the treasury benches are not particularly strong in debating power. As a result, the prime minister had to be continually on his feet in an endeavor to repel the powerful attacks of the Liberal ranks.

Au contraire, every member of the grit party has been ready and anxious to join in the debates. Ammunition was never lacking, nor the means to fire it. The result has been a brilliant display of political fireworks.

The passing of the estimates gave the government a particularly trying time. The Liberals were determined to show the administration that these could have been pared down to a point where it would have been unnecessary to impose any additional taxation. Indeed, they came to the house fully determined to do all that was humanly possible to prevent any such imposition.

They failed only because of the numerical strength of the government. Practically every item of any size, and scores of smaller amounts, were challenged, and the government was forced to explain them and to defend their inclusion at great length and often with great difficulty.

Never has there been such a searching inquisition into public expenditures as that staged by the Liberals, George H. Webster, their leader, and J. J. Montgomery, Wetaskinwin, were constantly on the quiver and delivered smashing blows repeatedly along these lines.

But in every case suggestions for further economy were voted down. The government refused absolutely to do any more paring, albeit the premier admitted that during the year it might be possible to make some further revisions.

Naturally, that did not suit the Liberal idea. Mr. Webster demanded that such revision be done right away, but again his suggestion was voted down.

Government refusal to cut down the estimates recoiled on its own head, however, because it enabled the Liberals once more to return to the attack when the supply bill came up for second reading. Then the administration got a real surprise when Mr. Howson moved to have them referred back to the committee of supply.

Although this motion was declared out of order without debate, this did not prevent Mr. Howson from getting in one of his slashing attacks on the government. It created quite a stir in parliamentary circles. Had it not been ruled out of order it might have precipitated a debate that would have prolonged the session considerably.

However, it did serve the purpose of putting the Liberals on final record as favoring still further extensive reductions in expenditures.

Looking back now, it appears that the treasury benches committed a tactical error when they allowed the budget debate to die without a single minister attempting to answer the criticism levelled at it from the opposition. The severest criticism came from Mr. Howson, who opened the debate. J. M. Duggan, the Conservative leader, also scored the administration, but was not up to his usual debating form at that time. He spoke very much in the tone of a parent about to administer a merited chastisement, but loth to hurt the culprit: "Naughty boy, papa spank—but not too hard."

It is significant that when the government allowed the debate to die out, Mr. Webster, the Liberal leader, was at his hotel preparing his own budget speech. It is well known that Mr. Webster is a wizard at figures and his speech would have given the treasury benches much to think about.

However, the data he had collected has been made full use of both by himself and by his followers and has provided much of the ammunition used during the consideration of the estimates.

The Income Tax Bill had a rocky road to travel from the date of its introduction until its final passing. Here again the numerical strength of the government was the only thing to save it from defeat. The opposition, generated by the grits, became solid and showed no let up until the final vote.

And so one might go on treating each individual item that came before the house. Each received the same searching probe at the hands of the Liberals. Each had to be explained in minutest terms.

At one time the government complained at the large numbers of questions that had been fired at them by 'one particular group', meaning, of course, the Liberals. The premier declared it would astonish the public when they were told of the great expense entailed in answering these queries.

The information was received with smiles of derision by the Liberal benches. As Mr. Webster stated, the public was entitled to the information requested, and the only way they could get it was to avail themselves of their rights, as members of the legislature, to ask questions and so secure it.

It was one of the constant complaints during the session that the government was too reticent in the matter of supplying information about which the public was concerned, particularly so in the matter of borrowings and guarantees.

And now that it is all over, there is a feeling abroad that whenever the next provincial election takes place the U.F.A. will have a tremendous fight on its hands.

During the last few days of the session there have been unmistakable signs of dissatisfaction among certain back benches. How far this dissatisfaction has spread it is, of course, impossible to judge. But in some circles it is regarded as serious and it is said that the party could hardly hope to carry the re-vice if there were an appeal to the people at an early date.

On the other hand, it is freely stated that it will be the Liberal party that will do the fighting in the field. It is claimed that the Conservatives have shown poor tactics during the whole session. Their attack have been of the naïf and water-wrily variety, except where Hugh C. Farling, of Calgary, has been in the lead. They have acted more or less in the capacity of lookers on, with here and there a word of complaint and fire of criticism. They have never been aggressive and it is said would make no real attempt to put sufficient candidates in the field to make any better showing in the house than they do at present.

For that reason it is easy to understand why so much interest is being displayed in the forthcoming convention of the Liberal party in Edmonton in June. It is believed they fully intend to go into the next provincial fight with all the strength they have available. They feel confident that the government is completely on the defensive and is having the greatest difficulty in keeping its forces in order.

Certain it is that at this convention a new and vigorous policy will be laid down and that the most able of the Liberal stalwarts will be chosen to lead them to battle.

At present there are two outstanding candidates mentioned for the position. One is George H. Webster, present house leader, and the other, W. E. Howson, the Edmonton member. It is said that the former is the strong favorite, it being stated that he can have the position if he so wishes. The great difficulty is the question of genial George's health. Although this has been steadily improving all the session, he is by no means his robust old self. He has, however, not been sparing himself this session, and has shown a tremendous amount of energy and capacity for accomplishing things. There is no question about his claim to the leadership, if he himself feels up to the task.

Mr. Howson has shown himself to be a powerful debater all session. He has been constantly on his feet defeating attack after attack on the government forces. He has repeatedly got the treasury benches peeved, but his thrusts have been so timed with rapier-like precision that they have had little or no chance to make a counter stroke. Since the previous session, Mr. Howson has gone ahead by leaps and bounds. He is one of the strongest men in the Liberal party, and should Mr. Webster not accept the leadership, there is little doubt that 'Bill' will receive a substantial backing.

In conclusion it may be said that the session just closed has been the most strenuous for years, not because of the great amount of legislation that has been accomplished, at because of the continuous fighting that has been done. Specially ordinary resolutions have brought mightily and spirited debates, in which the grits were always the leading factors. Questions have been constantly hurled at the government by the Liberals, and evening sessions have been constant almost from the start.

It is no wonder that the U.F.A. members are glad to get away to a peaceful atmosphere of their farms. It will seem like a sojourn in Elysian fields after the belligerent atmosphere created in the Liberal camp.—Press Gallery Correspondent.

N UNSUCCESSFUL OPERATION

Did you hear of the three internationally known surgeons, an Englishman, an American and a Canadian, who were discussing their most famous cases? No! Well, listen:

The Englishman related how he had removed a man's heart, cut away one obstruction, replaced the heart, and today that man is walking the streets of London.

The American stated he had opened a man's side, sliced his kidneys, grafted skin to the part cut away, sewed him up again, and today that man is walking the streets of New York.

The Canadian's story was: "My most notable case was when in Calgary I cut out a man's heart, sent him down to Ottawa, and the result is that today half of Canada is walking the streets."

MARKETS IN BRITISH

COUNTRIES

To those interested in the development of intra-Empire trade, it might be pointed out that Canada's exports of automobiles and parts are worth considering from the standpoint that they are distributed to a large number of British countries and possessions. Last year, British South Africa advanced from fourth to first position as a consumer of Canadian export passenger cars, while British India maintained its lead as a market for exported Canadian trucks. As to volume of possible export trade, it is noteworthy that as recently as 1922, automobiles exported by Canada were one-third of the total produced.

SECTION 98 SAFE—

GUARDS CANADA
AGAINST COMMUNISTS

Hon. W. H. Price has done the public a service by issuing in pamphlet form the judgment of the Court of Appeal in the case of the King vs. Buck and others. In a foreword the Attorney-General describes the finding of the Chief Justice, Sir William Mulock, confirming the verdict of a lower court and jury as concluding one of the most important criminal trials which has ever been held in this country. "So far as is known this was the first proceeding in which the legality of the Communist party as such was called in question, and the result is virtually to declare that party an outlaw in the Dominion of Canada." In his judgment the Chief Justice outlined the origin of the Communist Party of Canada. He showed it to be an integral part of the world-wide Communist International and demonstrated that its aims and objects are subversive of the world's peace.

Colonel Price strongly attacks those enemies of the State who have steadily misrepresented Section 98 of the Criminal Code, under which the conviction was secured. The Attorney-General says: "It has been repeatedly said by ill-informed or by deliberately untruthful persons, that Section 98 of the Criminal Code is an attack on the right of citizens of free speech. That statement is a fabrication." After quoting the section in full, Mr. Price proceeds: "Any man may advocate whatever type of government he thinks most desirable, or may attack all existing institutions; he may argue for any, even the most radical, changes; it is only when the ways of force, violence or physical injury to persons or property is threatened, advised or defended, that an offence is committed, and the offender comes under the Act. The object of the section is not to protect existing institutions against legitimate criticism, but to protect citizens against red revolution and civil war, against the fire and sword of armed rebellion."

As is further emphasized, parliamentary institutions, Britain's gift to the world, have been developed by slow degrees, by careful reasoning and argument, by adopting our governmental machinery to the ever changing times. But the British way is not the Bolshevik way. The Bolshevik plan scorns democracy; it is to sweep away the existing fabrics of civilization and substitute therefor the principles of Marx and Lenin. The Soviet idea is to ignore the people and to impose a dictatorship upon them—to subject the majority to the ruthless rule of a vindictive minority. If such rule were to triumph here, there would be no more free speech in Canada. It is Communism, Code, or any other part of the law of Canada that is a law of free speech.

As we have said, the Attorney-General has done a public service in putting Sir William's judgment and a review of the recent Communist case before the public in a convenient form. All those who really desire to get at the root of the matter and to understand its implications should procure this pamphlet and carefully digest it. Two things are certain, and these are: (1) That Col. Price was protecting Ontario and all of Canada when he forced Tim Buck and his colleagues to trial; and (2) that Premier Bennett served the country well when he refused a reading to the bill repealing the famous section 98. Another very satisfactory circumstance remains to be chronicled. That is, that the great mass of wage-earners throughout the Dominion are just as hostile to Communism and the Communists as the Federal Prime Minister, the Attorney-General, and the Ontario courts are showing themselves to be.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

TO MAKE TAXES

MORE POPULAR

All provinces are seeking frantically to discover something new to tax, which may be reasonably approved. The Sault Ste. Marie Star offers these very helpful hints: Atmosphere tax, graded as to age of taxpayer; permanent waves on male, 2 cents; ice cream cone tax, a cent; after-dinner speeches, $1.00; colored spats, $2.00; red neckties, 25 cents; walking sticks, a nickel; smoking room stories, 15 to 30 cents; salvation, advancement, graded from editors up to crooners (application from tax collectors not to be considered); road hogs, everything they have left; cabinet ministers, 25 per cent; lumberjacks, free; fish stories, according to the verdict of the audience; sponge cake, so much per pound; weather prophets, financial seers, college professors, bootleggers, bridge players and radio entertainers—let their conscience be their guide.

OIL LEAKS ITS WAY

INTO NEW MARKET

In a rail shipment of oil the other day, leakage from defective containers was so great that the locomotive was unable to make headway, whereupon a trainman walked in front of the train and sprinkled sand on the rails. It was Soviet oil making an inauspicious entrance into the Abyssinian market.

He was an angler, with the usual imagination.

"Yes," he said, "it was the biggest fish I had ever hooked, and before I realized it I was pulled right out of the boat."

"You must have got a nasty wetting," remarked one of the listeners. "Oh, not a bit of it," replied the angler. "You see, I fell on the fish."

This world would be o.k. if some people weren't too big for it.

THIS TIME MAY COME

This time may come:
When some one will not be extolling the "good old days."
When observers will not be viewing with alarm the goings-on among the young people.

When the comic sheets will not pretend that husbands are henpecked.
When a reporter, a detective and a parson on the stage or in the movies will resemble a reporter, a detective and a parson in real life.

When popular magazines will think up some new way to adorn their covers without glorifying the American girl.

When a man will work as hard as he leads his wife and his friends to think he works.

When cynics will not be knocking the church and the church will not be knocking the world.

When an employee admits he is being paid all he's worth.

When professional reformers admit that society is O.K. and voluntarily quit their jobs.

When a man gives up his automobile and explains that he cannot afford one.

When somebody will not be prophesying that the world is coming to an end.

When suckers will not be stung by fake investments salesmen.

When bora will not take the perfunctory cue "how are you?" as an invitation to give an "organ-recital."

Yes, the time may come. But we don't expect to be alive to enjoy that millennial dawn!—Ex.

WHEN NIGGERS WERE SOLD AT AUCTION

Says Mr. Fred Palmer: "In looking over an old scrap book I noticed the following bill of a sale posted therein and thinking it might be of interest, have copied it."

"Having sold my farm and intending to move to Missouri, I will sell at public sale, one mile west and four miles south of Harrisburg, Kentucky, on Saturday, September 26, 1880, the following personal property, to wit: One buck nigger, 25 years old, weight 210 lbs; 4 nigger wenches, 18 to 21 years old; 3 nigger boys, 6 years old; 12 nigger hoes; 1 fine sled; 6 yoke of oxen, well broke; 10 ox yokes with hickory bows; 2 ox carts with 6 inch tires; 1 saddle pony, 5 years old, 1 side saddle; 3 double shovel plows, 10 and 12 inch; 25 1-gallon whiskey jugs; 100 gallons apple cider; 1 barrel good sorghum; 2 barrels soap; 2 barrels krait; 1 extra good nigger whip; 2 tons tobacco, 2 years old.

"Sale will start at 10.30. Terms cash. I need the money. Col. H. W. Johnson, auctioneer; Bill Crawford, clerk; Joe Cooley, owner."

Probably a lot of niggers went with the farm.—F. Palmer, Claresholm.

How It Works

One of childhood's choicest queries has ever been and ever will be: "How does it work?" and it seemed a wholly enthralling idea to two young passengers, who recently travelled from Nottingham, England, to Lemberg, Sask., when Engineer Fred Munt, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, invited them into the cab of his huge "2600" type locomotive. The young travellers were Walter and Willie Wilson, aged 12 and 10 years, who journeyed along with their grandmother's home in the Old Country to join their mother. They crossed the Atlantic in the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare and the Dominion on C. P. R. lines, making many friends and seeing many absorbing sights en route. Pictures show the interested pair and their kindly tutor in a brief explanation of the mysteries of the gauges of the great engine. And what boy, either in Canada or England, would not envy them?

Canada shipped more than 5,000,000 pairs of rubber and rubber-soled boots and shoes valued at approximately $4,408,100 to more than 80 countries during 1931, according to information given out by the Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce.

Bargain rates are forecast for western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said C. B. Foster, passenger traffic manager of the railway, on his recent arrival in Winnipeg after an official visit to the Pacific Coast. The successful experiment in popular low rates excursions in Eastern Canada this year has invited consideration of extension of the project to the West, he added.

In continuance of its policy of inter-city visits between the major centres of population in Eastern Canada, the Canadian Pacific Railway will on April 8 operate one of the most ambitious of these projects by running a round trip excursion from Toronto to Montreal at a cost below one-fourth of that of the ordinary return fare. There is every indication of heavy patronage in the excursion.

PROGNOSTICATES

FROM HEAVENS

This a.m. while it was yet night I arose to study the stars and prognosticate next week's happenings.

Next week will not be fortunate for married men, but about the same as the other 358 days. Prominent men may be used for calling someone "cutie."

Roughly speaking, your banker is apt to be nasty and ask you to a least pay storage on your promissory notes. Married women should not encourage admirers, not even their husbands, for friendliness may be misinterpreted.

Sirius, the dog star, is warning citizens will be forced to pay their dog taxes. The rich will get richer and the poor will buy a new car. Children born next week will either be male or female, and should be put immediately on a milk diet.

In Flinders there is a menacing sign for the flapper. Doctors will continue to write prescriptions for people's imaginary complaints. Caution should be exercised. Don't tell the girl in the movies she ought to be in the movies. Get a new line. Theatre will flourish and the public will see a two-bit movie anywhere for 7 cents.

Uranus is out trailing the guy who wrote that "prosperity is just around the corner." Many automobiles will be sold for taxes and others will be concealed in the next province. And according to our patient research, the whole solar system seems to be on the verge of a scandal.

Now, this high pressure calculation is so exhausting that I cannot tell offhand how much is two times four. Can you? Pan me somebody, with a little scotch.—G. Haw.—Claresholm Local Press.

FITY THE POOR BUSINESS MAN

These are tough days for the average man who is unfortunate enough to own a little property. Taxes and imposts paid by the wealthy mean do not mean much of a pinch to them. The poor man, without property, car either go on the bread line or, if he is a farmer, duck under the Debt Adjustment Act. But the average business man, neither rich nor poor, is certainly finding life a rough road. There is fact that he may have a little property affords sufficient excuse to try to take it away from him. Governments and everybody else join in the merry chase. It doesn't take much financial blood to excite the taxation tiger these days.—Vegreville Observer.

San Francisco was on ice recently when the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain arrived there from Honolulu for a two day stay on her 123-day winter cruise of world ports. "The Mineral Position of the British Empire" is the suggestive title of a paper by Dr. Charles Connell, Deputy Minister of Mines, which will be the leading topic for discussion at the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, in Montreal on April 5, 6 and 7. This same topic will provoke much discussion at the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference.

Belief that economic conditions are gradually improving and that the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa would be the first of the big financial events in the development of the Dominion, was expressed by Senator Gideon Robertson, former Minister of Labor, who sailed on S.S. "Canada's rapid change from an exporter of raw minerals to an exporter of finished and semi-finished goods will be well set forth at the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy in Montreal on April 5, 6 and 7. With five steamers in service between Port McNicoll and the head of the Lakes during the coming season, the Canadian Pacific Railway announces that they will now accept shipments of freight to and from points in the north and west of Canada, via Port McNicoll, and that their Port McNicoll line subject to delay at Port McNicoll pending the first sailing.

Changes in the management of Maritime Province summer hotels of the Canadian Pacific Railway will shortly become official. Joseph C. Cashin will manage the Lakeside Inn, Yarmouth, N.S., and is at present in charge of the Blue Vicer Hotel in Montreal, which will become manager of the Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews, N.B., and he will be succeeded in the management of the Lakeside Inn by Jeremiah Delany, Jr., now chief clerk at the Cornwall Inn, Kentville, N.S.

Among deeds of heroism at sea, the rescue of the 27 men of the salvage ship Reindeer by volunteer seamen of the S.S. Montclair recently will rank high. Able seconded by Captain Rothwell who steered the Montclair to make a sea for the lifeboat, and with very heavy seas running, the men under Second Officer Knight put through "as pretty a piece of work as one could wish to see." was the comment of J. F. Ross, of Moose Jaw, former M.P. for that city, who was a passenger and witnessed the rescue from start to finish. (331)

PROPER USE OF SPEED

Some motor car owners see no reason for making fast cars if they cannot be driven fast, but experts explain the matter very simply. To give a satisfactory cruising speed an automobile must have a high top speed, but to drive much above the cruising speed is neither economical nor sensible. Those who misunderstand the performance characteristics of the modern automobiles are the ones who are getting into trouble with the authorities. Speeding in defiance of safety is just a bad habit that is nowise alleviated by the present-day high available car capabilities.

THE MODERN COCKTAIL

An old Dutchman, returning to Holland, was asked by a friend what in his estimation was the strangest thing he had noticed, and he replied: "The United States has many wonderful things, but the strangest is a drink called the cocktail—and here is how they make it: They put in whiskey to make it strong, then water to make it weak; gin to make it hot, and ice to make it cold; lemon to make it sour, sugar to make it sweet; then they say, 'Here's to you,' and drink it themselves."

"Rastus, I am very sorry to hear that you have buried your wife." "Yessuh, boss, ah jus had to—she was dead."

Mother's Time Off!

Bobby's asleep! A sound, restful sleep after a round of hard play. But this sleep can only come if Bobby's feeding of milk—the all essential food—has been completely absorbed and easily digested. Nestlé's Evaporated Milk has been the answer to this problem for thousands of grateful Mothers.

And here's the Reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in air-tight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curd which forms in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

Canada will soon have to start banking extra millions of loaves of bread, making extra millions of pounds of butter, and stocking up the pantry generally. Company is coming. This year, as usual, motor tourists from the United States will throng the highways across the Dominion. It's the great summer playground of the automobile, and there seems no reason to doubt that the customary influx will soon commence. Last year a total of 4,909,989 cars entered Canada from the United States for touring purposes, a decrease of 490,000 compared with 1930. Of the total, 3,439,492 cars entered for a day's run; 1,467,753 for a 60-day period; and 744 for a period up to six months. Ontario attracted 3,591,720 cars; Quebec, 645,935; New Brunswick, 300,068. Prince Edward Island, the sea-island province, had only one automobile entered from the United States during the year. It was admitted for a sixty-day period.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

At a public meeting held in the B. & B. hall on Sunday last, the question of whether or not the people of Corbin should renew their present medical attention agreement or raise funds to build their own hospital, was considered. The present agreement calls for two doctors, Dr. Elliott, resident, and Dr. Kelman, who resides in Fernie and who takes care of all operations and serious injuries that cannot be attended to with advantage in Corbin. The meeting was opened by the chairman, Mr. Podgornik, who, after calling the meeting to order, read two letters that had been written by J. Thomson and C. R. Shaw to the secretary of the hospital board, saying that in their opinion a public meeting should be called before any agreement was signed. Mr. Podgornik then called upon Dr. Kelman for his opinion as to what the construction and operation of a hospital would cost. Dr. Kelman stated that as he had not previously prepared a statement as to the cost of constructing a hospital, he was not prepared to say, but nevertheless gave a considerable list of expenses that would have to be incurred. Dr. Elliott said he had nothing further to add to what his colleague, Dr. Kelman, had already stated. E. L. Warburton, in a short, but very interesting address drew as one of his main points the seriousness of the present situation, should anyone residing in Corbin during the winter months, when roads are closed to motor vehicles and the railway had to be depended upon, needing medical attention which could not be supplied outside of a properly equipped hospital. He also gave figures showing that the construction of an eight-bed hospital would cost in the neighborhood of six thousand dollars. Mr. Warburton also stated that, in the matter of raising funds for a hospital, it would be entirely up to the people of Corbin themselves, as the banks will not consider a loan of that nature. It was moved by Mr. Reger, seconded by Mr. Thomson, that a committee be formed to investigate the possibilities of raising money and the amount required to construct and operate a hospital, and to report back to a later meeting. This motion was carried. The committee appointed was as follows: J. Podgornik, William Goss, F. Reger, J. Bowsha and J. Dornan. Motion by J. Dornan, seconded by Mr. Goss, that the present doctors' agreement be renewed for twelve months, so as to allow the committee formed time to go thoroughly into the hospital situation, was also carried, and the meeting adjourned.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

A meeting of the Welsh Society was held in the Catholic hall on Friday evening.

A very successful whist drive and dance was held in the Union hall on Wednesday evening, under auspices of the Knights of Pythias and sister lodge. The hall was filled to capacity. Supper was served in the K.F. hall after whist. Dancing then followed till early morning. The whist honors went to: Mrs. P. Haggerty, ladies' first; Mrs. Cross, second; Adam Bonne, gents' first; Scout master Albert Marks, second. R. Gardner held the lucky tickets on both the draw for the door prize and the mystery box. Proceeds of the evening were kindly donated to the local Boy Scouts' fund.

C. Carlson has been appointed to make the assessment of the Hillcrest school district.

The stork visited Hillcrest on Sunday and left a daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Curry.

Mrs. Rhodes is at present visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Curry.

Nick Squireak was injured in the mine on Monday morning.

Mrs. Walter Rose was a Calgary visitor last week.

Several of the Michel Scouts, accompanied by their scout master, encamped near Hillcrest over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank and daughter Jean were visitors to Calgary over the week end.

Mrs. Peggy and Dorothy Calderwood are now residing with their father, Mr. J. Calderwood, here.

Clark Rhodes and daughter Gladys, of Champlain, were visitors in Hillcrest over the week end.

The concert and dance, under auspices of the local Slovaks, held in the Union hall on Monday, was very successful. A large number of patrons motored from the surrounding districts. The programme will be repeated at a later date at Michel.

Angus Grant received slight injuries to his foot on Friday.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

A whist drive was held at the home of Mrs. James Smith, Lundbreck, on Wednesday evening, under auspices of the Roman Catholic church, when prizes were awarded as follows: ladies' first, Miss Lea Lemire; consolation, Miss Doris Walters; gents' first, J. McCulloch; consolation, Mr. Nelson.

A dance, sponsored by the athletic club, was held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Friday night, when a good sized crowd turned out. Excellent music was furnished by Kay's Vagabonds, of Pincher Creek. A neat sum was netted, which will go toward making tennis courts in the Cowley recreation grounds.

An illustrated lecture, under auspices of the British and Foreign Bible Society, was given by Mr. Lytle, of Calgary, in the United church here on Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Whitmore, of Pincher Creek, held service in the United church here on Sunday afternoon.

During the past week, considerable seeding of wheat, oats and sweet clover has been done. Several days of fine weather has put the soil in fine shape for tilling.

Early garden vegetables, such as lettuce, onions, spinach, radishes, etc., are now being planted. Winter onions are at their best, and rhubarb will soon be ready for use.

Although feed stuffs have been scarce in most localities, range cattle and other live stock have come through the winter in fairly good condition, and should now make a rapid gain on the fresh grass.

John R. Renton died at Calgary on Monday, at the age of sixty years. He will be remembered locally, for for some years he was sales agent in this territory for Taylor safes, later dealing in oil and other stocks. He was for five years connected with mining activities, and at the time of his death was agent for the State Creek Placers Consolidated. He was a B.P.O.E. member, and is survived by his widow, son and daughter.

According to report from New York, if you would like to have your telephone answered while you are out—or even while you are in—there is a gadget that will do the trick. The Sound Engineering Corporation has announced an automatic telephone answering plan, which employs the device now used for making personal phonograph records. When the telephone bell rings, an automatic arm takes the receiver off the hook and a tiny record starts to spin. The message is recorded thereon, and when you come home just start the phonograph.

For the first time in its history, Maligne Lake, Medicine Lake and tributary waters will be opened for fishing on June 1 of this year. These waters, which were destitute of fish life, were stocked with speckled trout from Cisco, Pennsylvania, in 1927.

So phenomenal has been the development of these fish that specimens weighing more than six pounds were netted in these waters during a government test last fall. Altogether, half a million fry were placed in the waters and government experts estimate that there are now more than a million fish of legal size and over. These waters are located in Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies.

Reducing Costs Of Government

Continuing discussion of the above subject, let us consider in a little more detail some of the many duplications in services on the part of the Federal and Provincial Governments.

First, agriculture. Both Governments maintain experimental farms or experiment, illustration of demonstration stations, forestry farms, etc. This work should be confined exclusively either to the Dominion or to the Provinces, and, as conditions vary so greatly as between the provinces, this class of work might well be left to them. The Dominion Department of Agriculture might well confine its efforts to establishing and maintaining standards of weight and quality of all agricultural and allied products, safeguarding the health of animals, preventing the introduction of diseases, animals, impure seed, and infected free and plant life from abroad. Responsible for the fixing and maintaining of standards of quality, the Dominion would likewise be responsible for promoting the sale of these high standard products in the markets of the world. Let the provinces look after the educational and production end, and the Dominion the maintenance of uniform Canadian standards and the development of export markets for these uniformly high quality products irrespective of province in which they are produced.

Public health. Here, too, the Dominion might well confine its work to safeguarding the health of all through the prevention of disease resulting from disease-afflicted people entering the country, while leaving to the provinces the general work of health education among its people, health inspection and disease prevention. And just as the prairie provinces now pay the Dominion for police services, so the Dominion might pay the provinces for carrying on the necessary health work among the Indian wards of the nation. The Federal Department of Health could thus be done away with, and the work performed through the Immigration Department on the one hand and the Provincial Departments of Public Health on the other hand.

Then there is that most prolific source of friction between Federal and Provincial Governments, namely, company incorporation, company law, inspection, taxation, etc. Hardly a year passes that there is not some reference before the courts to settle the respective jurisdiction of Federal and provincial authorities in regard to these subjects. There is also the heart-burning issue where provincial governments through local government boards, utility commissions, or some similar body, seek to protect their people from irresponsible, not to say dishonest, company promoters and high pressure stock salesmen, but whose best efforts are brought to naught because such companies by obtaining Dominion rather than provincial incorporation can defy the provinces.

It would seem as if all company incorporation should be Dominion, rather than partly Dominion and partly provincial. Then any company could do business in any or all the provinces. If some company desired to engage in a purely local business, its incorporation fee might be made smaller, and its charter so restricted, if desirable, but if all company incorporation was vested in the Dominion, all incorporation fees could be reduced and at the same time Dominion revenues would be increased. Certainly, a vast amount of litigation, not to speak of much duplication in taxation, would be ended, and all Canadian business except the lawyers, would benefit thereby.

Changes such as suggested would mean loss of revenue to the provinces, and increased revenues to the Dominion. It therefore follows that there should be a readjustment of taxing powers. Under the B.N.A. Act the provinces are limited in their taxing power to the imposition of direct taxes, while the Dominion can impose both direct and indirect taxes. The field of indirect taxation is much wider than the field of direct taxation. The Dominion, therefore, might well withdraw from the income field and leave it to the provinces. By and large this would mean the dropping by the Dominion of the income tax, and leaving that source of revenue exclusively to the provinces.

This is surely worthy of consideration. In the meantime, however, with both Federal and Provincial Governments levying taxes upon income, and with both governments maintaining income tax departments for the levying and collection of such taxes, is it not possible to eliminate the waste of taxpayers' money resulting from such duplication of departments by some arrangement whereby either the Dominion would collect for the provinces, or the provinces when collecting their taxes would likewise make collection for the Dominion? Whichever body was saved the expense might pay to the other a percentage fee on the money collected for it. Not only would the money now wasted in duplication of collecting agencies be saved, but the public would be relieved of much annoyance and the necessity of filing duplicate sets of returns and calculations.

Furthermore, surely it is high time a stop was put to such practices as the one introduced in the recent budget at Ottawa whereby the Dominion imposes a tax on businesses conducted by provincial governments. The recent budget imposes a tax of five cents on every long distance telephone call. This really means an increase of that amount in long distance telephone tolls, which business in these prairie provinces is the exclusively business of the provincial governments. If that additional sum is to be extracted from the patrons of the long distance lines, then it should accrue to the provincial governments, and not to the Dominion. But the Dominion steps in and imposes this tax on provincially-owned public utilities, and even throws additional expense upon the provinces to collect the tax, and do the additional bookkeeping and accounting work which it will entail. This is most illogical and unfair. It would be just as reasonable for the provinces, if they had the power, to impose a tax upon the business transacted by the post office department.

So, in conclusion, we would again emphasize the view expressed in a previous article in this column, namely, that it is expedient that a conference of all the provinces with the Dominion be held with a view to amending the B.N.A. Act, removing therefrom the many causes of dispute between the Federal authority on the one hand and the provinces on the other. More definitely defining the spheres of control of each, and clarifying their respective fields of taxation. The taking of such action would be a long step forward towards reducing costs of government in this country.

Making Better Use Of Sunlight On Farms

New British Glass Substitute For Window Lighting Is Boon To Farmers

During the past fifteen years there has been much scientific studying of sun rays and their effect on human beings and animals. Ultra-violet rays particularly have been studied. Even the scientists themselves are unaware exactly how ultra-violet rays affect growth, health, and development in both vegetables and animals. They are, however, known to be largely responsible for all three. After exhaustive researches, means have been found not only to produce them artificially, but to facilitate their entry in a natural state into ordinary buildings by using specially prepared material of low cost for window lights.

It is probable that this is one of the greatest boons conferred on farmers, poultrymen, market gardeners, and smallholders by scientists for some time. The specially prepared material referred to surpasses ordinary window glass in that it will permit the passage of ultra-violet rays. Glass will not do. Thus, since it is flexible and almost indestructible, it offers immense possibilities for the lighting of livestock sheds, chick and laying pens for poultry, hot and cold frames in the vegetable and flower garden and special covers for raising young plants in the open much ahead of the usual time.

The advantages of using a material which will transmit ultra-violet rays are not theoretical; they have been proved to be profitable in actual tests.

Tests carried out both in this country and England have shown that chicks can be raised earlier in the year in brooders which are lighted with the new material and that in winter the actually grown birds housed behind it lay more eggs.

Another test made in England with a flexible glass substitute called "WINDOLITE" which has now been made available in Canada, showed that a flock of 30 hens behind ordinary window glass averaged 39.20 eggs per hen for the six months from May to December. Another flock behind the glass substitute averaged 78.27 eggs per hen for the six months. These figures are, in themselves, conclusive.

As far as chicks are concerned, there is decidedly less leg weakness and the usual chicken mortality in brooders is very largely removed.

Livestock buildings and barns lighted with this material should be healthier for animals. One eminent British medical authority states his belief that tuberculosis in cattle is largely due to their being deprived of ultra-violet rays in dark sheds in winter.

In the garden, berry crops, lettuce and all other small plants can be brought to maturity a fortnight earlier, and be better flavored if grown under covers made of this material.

Another factor in favor of using the new glass substitute is the extreme cheapness, strength and durability.

The new British glass substitute for window lighting actually costs less per square foot than ordinary window glass; is unbreakable, except by extreme violence; retains its translucency and ability to pass ultra-violet rays indefinitely and is unaffected by severe climates—yet its weight is less than one fourteenth that of ordinary glass.

Build Up Health With Spring Tonic

The fashion of taking a Spring tonic is based on sound medical grounds. Winter has thinned and debilitated the blood stream so that it isn't carrying enough oxygen. That is the reason for the listless, languid, easily-tired condition so prevalent at this season.

What is needed is a tonic—one that will build new blood and restore and purify the blood stream, and thus enable it to carry the energizing oxygen that thousands have proven that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the ideal tonic for this purpose.

Mrs. A. Merritt of Welland says: "Again last Spring I became ill. I could not do my work; was pale, weak, and tired all the time. I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and myself made me strong and happy again. Try them and experience for yourself the new strength and vigour they will bring you. At your druggist's is the new glass container. 50c a package."

Registration Of Motor Vehicles In Canada Drops In 1931

For the first time, the registration of motor vehicles in Canada showed a decrease in 1931, the total for all classes being 1,206,836 as against 1,239,888 for 1930, a decrease of 33,052 vehicles, or 2.7 per cent.

A report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows passenger car registrations registered decreased from 1,047,494 cars in 1930 to 1,024,385 last year.

Total taxes collected through registration fees, mileage on buses, etc., amounted to $19,984,908, which was $451,375 less than in 1930. "Eastern provinces showed increased revenue from this source while the prairie provinces and British Columbia all recorded decreases. The total gasoline tax collected amounted to $32,546,119 as against $32,856,225 for 1930.

Canada, with an average population of 8.6 persons per motor vehicle, had a greater total registration than any other country except the United States, the United Kingdom and France.

Delicate Seismographs At Ottawa Observatory Register Disturbance

The earthquake at Santiago, Cuba, on February 3, 1932, was well recorded by the seismographs at the Dominion Observatory, Department of the Interior, Ottawa. By means of the seismographs the distance to the epicenter was found to be 2,760 kilometers or 1,700 miles, and the time at the origin 1-15-57 a.m., Eastern Standard Time. The maximum ground displacement at Ottawa was about one-hundredth of an inch. According to press reports the damage in the city of Santiago was estimated at $10,000,000. Nine persons were killed and the casualty list was about 300.

The Age Of Judges

Long Experience Rather Than Youthful Enthusiasm Needed On Bench

It has been said in the House of Commons that judges are too old at 65. No statement could be more absurd. What is needed on the judicial bench is not the fire and enthusiasm of youth, but long experience of life and law. Calm wisdom is the fruit of advancing age. Some of the most famous and permanent judgments in British legal history have been pronounced by men in their seventies and eighties.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well known fact that some people have strong tendency to produce excessive stomach acidity and consequent indigestion. From daily meals those foods that are acid and limit the diet to certain tasteless unpalatable items. In many instances, however, the acid condition is not due to indigestion, but to a chronic condition of the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by feeding it with the extra acid and then sufferers can eat the food they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after every meal a little Bismley Magnesia which can be had at any good drug store in either powder or tablet form. Bismley Magnesia instantly neutralizes stomach acids, keeps food fermentation and meals digest as naturally and healthily as the stomach of a healthy child. Stomach comfort means a lot and most folks like good things to eat. Enjoy them both by making Bismley Magnesia your daily after-eating protection.

Impressive Economy Record Established For Year 1931
Figures upon the operation of the Canadian National Railway for the year 1931 indicate that an impressive economy record was established in the face of heavily declining revenue. The operating revenue for the year reached $177,278,700, as compared with $221,770,445 for the preceding year, a decrease of about 20 per cent. Net operating expenses were $169,688,000 as against $195,259,507 for 1930, a decrease of 13 per cent. The system, therefore, exclusive of the time operating under the Maritime Freight Rates Act, will show an operating surplus of $7,585,700 for 1931. This, of course, is a very slight help toward paying the enormous burden of interest on capital invested, but it is at least an operating profit.

The really encouraging thing about the report from Montreal, however, is that while freight traffic revenue dropped about 16 per cent., operating expenses were so well controlled that the gross operating surplus of $7,585,700 was maintained and slightly increased. Speed of operation was increased and fuel consumption decreased. Passenger train service mileage operated was 25 per cent. less in December, 1931, than in December, 1930, and 29 per cent. less than in December, 1928, but locomotives were kept up to the usual average, and "on time" performance for the year set a new high record.

These figures indicate that the efficiency of the system is being improved in the time of adversity, and with an increase in freight and passenger traffic, such as may be expected with a gradual return to normal conditions, the relation of operating net revenue to overhead cost should be greatly improved.—D. WILL REVEAL RELIEF PLANS IN NEAR FUTURE

Winnipeg, Man.—Legislation to be introduced shortly in the Dominion Parliament by Premier R. B. Bennett will reveal the system of unemployment relief to be used after May 1, W. R. Clubb, Minister of Public Works, stated in the Manitoba legislature. Freshly returned from the Dominion-Provincial Conference on unemployment relief at Ottawa, Mr. Clubb said he was not at liberty to announce the decisions of the conference.

The back-to-the-land scheme endorsed by the Manitoba Government aroused interest at the conference, Mr. Clubb said. W. A. Gordon, Dominion Minister of Immigration, had already placed some persons with means on the land and had intimated legislation somewhat along the lines of the Manitoba scheme might be brought in to provide for placing persons without means on farms.

Premier Bennett had told the conference his government was studying the census figures to determine the feasibility of an unemployment insurance scheme.

No Dominion legislation in this regard was to be expected at this session, however, Mr. Clubb had learned.

A resolution asking the Dominion Parliament to enact legislation to authorize Manitoba to establish a provincial bank was passed by a vote of 20 to 16.

Vancover Vessel For Ontario Ports

Insurances Freight Service From West Coast To Toronto and Hamilton

Montreal, Que.—Vancover to Toronto and Hamilton by water is the service being inaugurated by the S.S. Rosebank of the Kingsley Navigation Company, Limited, Vancouver. The vessel is due here shortly after the opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence and, after unloading part of her cargo here, will proceed to the Ontario ports.

Cargo from Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal will be taken on board for the return journey. "The Rosebank" was at one time the Canadian Ocean liner of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine Fleet. She left Vancouver on March 21 with a full load of timber and canned salmon.

Naturalization Papers Needed

C.N.R. Workers At Winnipeg Required To Produce Citizenship Papers

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—Foreign-born workers in the Canadian National Railways shops at Port Rouge and Transcona are required to prove their citizenship. Their naturalization papers were inspected by a committee headed by A. E. Moore, Dominion chairman of the Canadian Legion, who said the investigation is the result of a new basis for the proposed lay-off of men by which all employees who cannot prove their Canadian citizenship will be dismissed regardless of seniority.

Mr. Moore, said the basis had been arranged at a conference he had a few days ago with Sir Henry Thornton, president of Canadian National Railways, and R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways.

Asking Preference On Wheat

Melbourne, Australia.—E. W. Hawker, Minister of Markets and Transport, told the Commonwealth legislature the Australian delegation to the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference next July did not intend to encourage its case with requests for preferential markets for wheat and wool, but would concentrate on obtaining concessions for meat and dairy produce.

Favors War Weapon Cut

Geneva, Switzerland.—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy told the World Disarmament Conference Italy welcomed the United States proposal for abolition of tanks, heavy artillery and gas warfare. He added to the plan a proposal to abolish battleships, aeroplane carriers and bombing aeroplanes.

Six Advisers For Delegation

London, Eng.—The London Times said six business advisers will be attached to the British delegation to the Ottawa Imperial Conference next July. Three will represent trade and industry, one agriculture, and two trade unions, the newspaper added.

Use More Foreign Wheat

Italy To Lighten Restrictions On Future Imports

Rome, Italy.—Restrictions on the use of foreign wheat, again were lightened by government decrees. Beginning April 26, millers of northern and central Italy will be allowed to use imported grain for 60 per cent of their flour, while millers of southern and insular Italy will be permitted to use 85 per cent.

The amount of foreign wheat which could be used in the mixing of flour formerly was 40 per cent, and 60 per cent, respectively, having been gradually raised from 20 per cent in view of an insufficient production of domestic grain.

Ottawa, Ont.—Growth in Italian purchases of Canadian wheat is looked forward to here as a result of the increase in the proportion of foreign wheat allowed in the making of flour in Italy. The lightening of restrictions follows the trend of other years when, to encourage consumption of domestic wheat, restrictions are imposed early in the crop season and gradually relaxed as the domestic supply diminishes.

Many Countries Will Exhibit

Saskatchewan Farmers Urged To Take Interest In Grain Show

Regina, Sask.—J. A. Mooney and E. B. Gass, of this city, addressed a meeting of the Board of Trade at Yorkton in an endeavor to stimulate interest and enthusiasm in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held in Regina in 1939.

Mr. Mooney told the gathering that more than 30 countries have already signified their intention of entering exhibits at the World's Grain Exhibition and that before long he expected the number would be at least fifty.

"We have one of the best growing grain areas here," Mr. Mooney said, "and it will be a shame if we do not put forth our best efforts to enthrone and encourage the farmers of the district to enter exhibits at the World's Grain Exhibition."

Mr. Gass outlined ways and means of stimulating interest and enthusiasm among the residents of the small towns and villages and the farmers in the Yorkton district and stated that Saskatchewan should enter at least 10,000 exhibits in the World's Grain Exhibition.

Must Protect Bay Route

Many Misrepresentations Claimed In Regard To Churchill Outlet

Ottawa, Ont.—The Hudson Bay route and the Port of Churchill are the butt of many misrepresentations in both English and Canadian newspapers, B. M. Stitt (Cons., Nelson), told the House of Commons. The member from Nelson charged that if the underwriters had their way they would make it impossible for business to flow over the Hudson Bay route.

Hudson Bay and Straits were now equipped with all necessary aids to navigation and ready for service. Parliament must see that nothing was done to jeopardize their future development.

With regard to the railway into Churchill, he said shippers were ready to use it, but so far no schedule of freight rates had yet been published. He urged that the government direct the attention of the railway's management to this matter.

Benefit To Canada

Estimated $254,776,000 Brought In By Tourists Last Year

Ottawa, Ont.—Total expenditures of tourists in Canada during 1931 are estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at $254,776,000. This is a decrease of $29,000,000 from the estimated expenditures of the previous year. Entering Canada via ocean ports, tourists spent $12,018,000; from the United States by motor car, $18,129,000; and from that country by rail, $50,629,000.

As against this, Canadians touring abroad spent $76,452,000 in other countries, a decrease of approximately $25,000,000 from the figure in 1930.

Miners May Strike

Calgary, Alberta.—Alberta coal miners stand firmly against wage reductions, according to results of the vote held by the Mine Workers' Union of Canada to ascertain the men's attitude in the event of pay cuts. Returns so far show a great majority in favor of a general strike if operators attempt salary reductions.

Gives Royal Assent

Winnipeg, Man.—Making his first appearance in the Manitoba legislature since his return from London, J. D. McGregor gave royal assent to six bills. His Honor recently took up his duties after a leave of absence occasioned by a severe illness.

Resigns Seat In Commons

Member For Royal, N.B., Hands In His Resignation

Ottawa, Ont.—George B. Jones, former Conservative Minister of Labor and former member of the New Brunswick legislature, has resigned his seat in the House of Commons for the constituency of Royal, N.B. The resignation with an accompanying letter by Mr. Jones was read in the House by Mr. Speaker Black.

The action was taken by Mr. Jones on learning that a contravention of the House of Commons act had occurred by reason of Jones Bros., Apohaqui, N.B., having supplied medical goods for needy Indians on orders of the Indian medical department. The firm is not operated by Mr. Jones personally. It is an unincorporated firm, and had it been a corporate one, it is understood, the provision of the act would not apply. The amount of goods supplied, it is understood, was small.

Ulster Is Loyal

Northern Ireland To Remain True To The British Empire

Enniskillen, Northern Ireland.—Viscount Craigavon, Prime Minister of Northern Ireland, told a Unionist meeting that, whatever happened in the controversy between Great Britain and the Irish Free State, nothing would make his government "flinch in upholding the flag which so long has flown over Ulster, the United Kingdom, and the rest of the Empire."

A resolution expressing unshakable loyalty to the King and a determination at all cost to remain within Great Britain and the empire was adopted by the meeting. (The Unionist party is the government party in Ulster.)

SEEK A LOWER RATE ON GRAIN TO MARITIMES

Ottawa, Ont.—Granting of a rate of 19.34 cents per 100 pounds on grain from the head of the lakes to Saint John, N.B., and Halifax, is urged in a memorial which is being sent to the Dominion Government. Conservative members and senators from the maritime provinces support the appeal of the Halifax harbor commissioners and the transportation commission of the maritime boards of trade for a one cent differential for the maritime ports as compared with Quebec port.

The memorial supports the appeal of the Halifax harbor commissioners and the transportation commission of the maritime boards of trade for a one cent differential for the maritime ports as compared with Quebec port. The appeal was heard before the cabinet shortly before parliament assembled for the session.

By a decision of the board of railway commissioners, the rate from the head of the Great Lakes to Quebec port was fixed at 19.34 cents per 100 pounds. Maritime bodies asked that a one cent differential rate be put into effect under the Transcontinental Act.

The memorial supports the rate fixed by the railway commission to Quebec port. It further requests that the appeal for a 19.34 cent rate to maritime ports be not referred back to the railway commission. An early decision by the government is asked.

PROMINENT VISITOR

Combining business with pleasure, Gilbert Carmichael, official of Scotland Yard, famous British police organization, is shown as he arrived on these shores. He denied rumors that he is in the United States to investigate the Lindbergh kidnapping and said he will make a study of traffic systems in various American cities.

Sunday Cinemas In England

Bill To Legalize Sunday Picture Shows Passes Second Reading

London, Eng.—A bill which would legalize Sunday motion picture shows passed second reading in the House of Commons by a vote of 235 to 217 after prolonged debate.

The decision was left to a free vote of the House, the voting cutting across all party lines. Sabbath observance has been the subject of the bill and many members received postcards making such prophecies as one that the Lord would strike them dead if they voted in favor of the measure.

Cinemas have been open on Sunday evenings in London and several other cities for many years without legal sanction. They would definitely have to close on Sundays after next October 7, however, unless the bill passed.

Distribute Flower Seeds

Canadian Horticultural Society To Donate Seeds To Saskatchewan

Ottawa, Ont.—Flower seeds, for distribution to residents in southern Saskatchewan, where the drought of last year took toll of crops and flowers, will be collected in the campaign directed by the Canadian Horticultural Council. Women's institutes and horticultural societies in eastern Canada will be asked to make donations of seeds and these will be distributed by the Saskatchewan relief commission, in co-operation with the horticultural council.

F. C. Nunnick, chairman of the "Beautiful Canada" campaign, announced distribution plans here.

Discount On Debts

Toronto, Ont.—To enable farmers to secure equipment much needed for the new season's operations and to aid in liquidation of their present indebtedness, a plan was announced by Massey-Harris Implement Company involving a 10 per cent. discount on all existing obligations to the company and on all new purchases of implements to the extent of payments prior to the end of next November.

THE HIKERS' MYSTERY EXPRESS

A unique stunt was put over by the British Railways during the Easter holidays by running "Mystery" specials for an unknown destination. So well were these mystery trains run that not even the train crew knew where they would stop until a moment before their departure. The above picture shows G. W. Hottel Knight, K.C., and two other enthusiastic hikers trying to persuade the engineer to let them into the secret.

Aid For Farmers

Advocates Bonusing System To Encourage Mixed Farming

Ottawa, Ont.—Earl Rowe (Cons., Dufferin-Simcoe), debating the Rhodes budget, pointed to mixed farming as the economic salvation of Canada. It might be necessary to bonus certain products and he suggested two cents for bacon and live beef; one cent for cheese, and three cents a dozen for eggs. This, he said, could be done without a heavy drain on the national exchequer and would revolutionize mixed farming. A plan of this type would encourage exports and stimulate the home market.

The farmers of Canada, proceeded Mr. Rowe, for years have witnessed the coal and iron and steel industries bonused. He believed it was time to take similar action for mixed farming.

The biggest problem in Canada was the rehabilitation of the farmer, said J. L. Brown (Lib., Lisgar). The question now was whether farmers were to be responsible men living on farms, deriving satisfaction out of their work and enjoying reading and other forms of education and entertainment, or whether they were to sink to the position of men engaged solely in grubbing out some kind of living from the soil.

Disband Hitler Army

German Government To Put An End To Political Activities

Berlin, Germany.—The German Government ordered Adolf Hitler to disband his army of 400,000 National Socialist shock troops and put an end to the terrorizing activities for which it held him and his legions responsible.

The sudden blow at the strongest single political organization in the nation came in the form of an emergency decree signed by President Paul von Hindenburg. As soon as it was promulgated, police throughout the country proceeded to enforce it by invading the various Nazi headquarters and seizing materials of war and propaganda.

For Peaceful Solution

See Signs Of Co-Operation Between Capital And Labor

Vancouver, B.C.—Tools for the destruction of the capitalist system through co-operation rather than revolution," declared Dr. S. D. Chown, former general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, addressing the Vancouver Presbytery of the United Church here.

"I rejoice in the signs on every hand of co-operation between owners and operatives, the selling of company stock to employees and other like movements," he added.

CHANGE URGED IN U. S. RADIO BROADCASTING

Ottawa, Ont.—The outstanding educational associations of the United States have passed resolutions urging a drastic change in the system of radio broadcasting in that country. The resolutions were adopted by the national advisory committee on radio broadcasting was told by Dr. J. E. Morgan of Washington, D.C.

Dr. Morgan has been for ten years editor of the Journal of the National Education Association, and represented the national committee on education by radio. The opinion was expressed in his brief that certain radio channels should be assigned to the educational authorities and that they should be owned and operated at the public expense without recourse to commercial advertising.

The federal radio commission of five members, appointed by act of congress in 1927, had proved a "weak organization" so far and had not made full use of its powers, the witness said. Evidence that the United States congress was alive to the unsatisfactory condition of radio in that country was seen in the fact that a commission similar to that studying the Canadian situation was now sitting in the United States by unanimous order of the United States senate.

The radio, congress had decided, must be conducted in the "public interest, necessity and convenience," but whenever commercial interests made a bid for radio channels or hours held by educational organizations, the latter gave up their privileges unless they wished to enter into expensive litigation, Dr. Morgan said.

A new national "monopolistic" organization in the United States was spending a million dollars a year in propaganda to keep control of radio in the hands of private interests, the witness declared.

OPTIMISTIC NOTE AS STRUCK IN MELLON SPEECH

London, England.—Hailing a new era, Andrew W. Mellon, United States ambassador to Great Britain, told the Pilgrims Society there was nothing in world conditions so unprecedented as to justify a lack of faith "in our capacity to deal with them."

This was the first public address as ambassador of the man who made millions in business and then administered the United States treasury under three presidents.

He spoke before a distinguished audience of 400 or more, including the Prince of Wales, Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, and Lord Derby, who presided.

The king sent a message to the Pilgrims, at the same time welcoming Mr. Mellon.

The Prince of Wales, speaking at the end of the banquet, saw proof of the friendship of the United States in sending as ambassador "one of the greatest financiers of their country at this time of world-wide economic stress." The Prince said he would not be able to visit America this year.

The ambassador reaffirmed his faith in "capitalism or whatever name may be applied to the system which has been evolved in adapting individual initiative to the machine age." In discussing the way out of the present economic difficulties, he declared: "I do not believe in any quick or spectacular remedies for the ills from which the world is suffering."

Mr. Mellon recalled that during his lifetime he had passed through many crises which invariably followed wars. Economic depression, he said, "are the price we pay for war and they must be reckoned as a seemingly unavoidable stage in the sequence of events."

The economic life of nations seems to go in cycles, he said, spurring forward in industrial expansion, then inflation and extravagance "which brings its own retribution."

In response to a message from the Pilgrims, the king sent the following:

"I cordially thank the Pilgrims of Great Britain and their guests assembled this evening for the loyal terms of their message, and I am glad to think that my son is with them on this auspicious occasion."

"It is indeed a pleasure to me to have the opportunity of associating myself with the welcome they are giving to Mr. Mellon as ambassador from the United States of America."

Was Famous Sleuth

William J. Burns, World Famed Detective, Dies At His Home In Florida

Sarasota, Fla.—William J. Burns, world famed detective, died at his home here recently.

Mr. Burns, who was probably the most famous individual in the detective business, during his 35 years, died suddenly at his 70 years old, a native of Baltimore, Md.

He founded the detective agency bearing his name and was director of the Bureau of Investigation of the United States Department of Justice from 1921 to 1924.

Business Advisers

Will Accompany United Kingdom Delegation To Imperial Conference

London, Eng.—The suggestion that business advisers should accompany the United Kingdom's delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, has been welcomed by most Dominion governments. J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominion Affairs, announced in the House of Commons recently.

Mr. Thomas added he had invited industrial associations to recommend selected advisers.

Raid On Fraternity House

Toronto, Ont.—A number of University of Toronto fraternity houses were raided by police and many pieces of silverware seized. The silverware, it seems, had been taken from downtown hotels and restaurants as "souvenirs" of various exploits and celebrations by the students. The spoons, knives, forks and other tableware were returned to the establishments and no prosecutions were made.

Chinese Studies Important

Montreal, Que.—Recognition of the place that the Department of Chinese studies has come to play in the scholastic life of McGill University was indicated in a decision of the corporation to grant a degree of master of arts in this subject. This will be obtainable in future under the auspices of the faculty of graduate studies and research.

I never stop advertising."

Roland West read more than 100 novels, plays and original scenarios before happening across "Cor-sair," his latest starring vehicle for Chester Morris, which is playing at Bellevue for the balance of the week. "Cor-sair" appeared first as a magazine serial and then in book form, and is from the pen of Walton Green, former head of the secret service for Prohibition Enforcement. Rollo Lloyd and Robert Ross directed in association with Roland West. The cast supporting Chester Morris includes Allison Loyd, William Austin, Frank McHugh, Emmett Corrigan, Fred Kohler, Ned Sparks, Mayo Methot and Gay Seabrook.

The independent labor, one branch of the red element, is in complete domination of the coal regions of the Crow. Last Thursday, the vote stood almost unanimously to stay out until the wage reduction question was settled. About 4000 men are idle, and there seems little prospect for an early settlement of the differences. The first cause for striking was the discharge of a man for insubordination. After they were all out, they took this for an excuse to settle the wage reduction matter. One of the mines is preparing to shut down for a year. The coal strike in the Crow is just like every other coal mine strike. There seems to be too many people trying to wrest a living from coal mining.
